The Children’s Sermon

You’ll Need:

- An empty water bottle half full of water
- Food coloring
- Cooking oil

Get Ready: Before class, add a few drops of food coloring to the water in the bottle, then fill the rest of the bottle with cooking oil and seal it shut.

Do This:

SAY: There are two things in this bottle. Can you guess what they are? (Allow kids time to respond.) This part is colored water (point to the colored water), and this part is oil. The thing about water and oil is that even when they’re put into the same container, they don’t ever mix. They remain separate from one another. Now, watch what happens when I shake the bottle. (Shake the bottle.) The water and oil appear to mix together. But, let's see what happens after we let the bottle sit for just a minute. (Let the bottle sit.) Look! The water and oil have become separate again. That shows us that even when they were all mixed together, they were never really a part of each other.

This bottle is a pretty good picture of what Jesus wants us to be like in this world we live in.

Before Jesus died on the cross, He prayed for His disciples. He prayed that as they lived in the world, they would not become part of the world. He wanted them to add the gifts He had given them to the world – just as the water added some color to the oil – but He did not want them to become stained by the world. He wanted them to remain the person God made them to be. He wanted them to know His love and to share that love with others.

This prayer is for us too. Jesus said that just as his Father sent him into the world, he has sent us into the world. We must live in this world, but Jesus has called us to be separate. Just as this colored water remains separate from the oil, Jesus wants us to live in the same bottle, but remain separate from the world.

PRAY: Dear Jesus, help us, as we live in this world, to remain faithful to your call to be separate from the world.

- Have kids hop over the line into the circle as you read the next part: “even as I am not of it.”
- Encourage kids to recite the verse along with you as they hop in and out of the “world” on the floor.
